Labeling, Printing and Data Collection Solutions

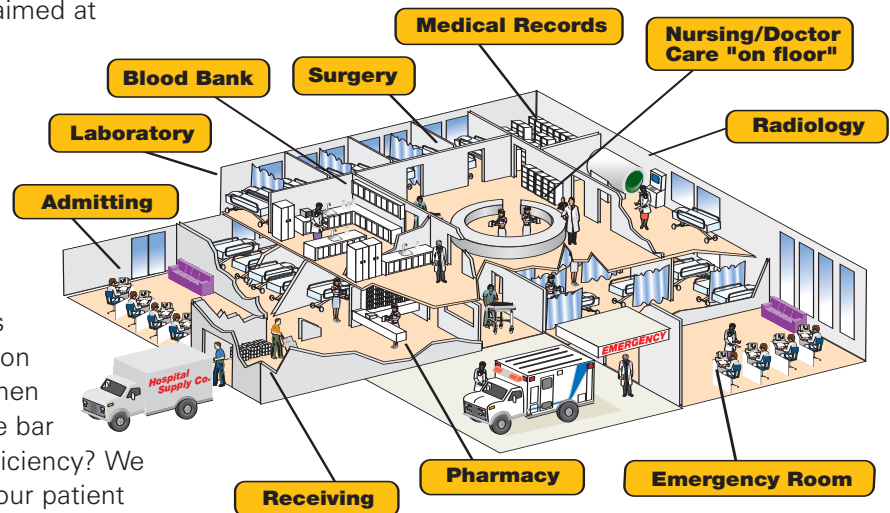

Finetune your Patient Safety Initiatives

Hospitals and clinics nationwide face similar pressures to reinforce patient safety and privacy, doing more with less. How does your facility meet the latest patient safety and privacy standards as efficiently as possible? Where can you introduce more automation to achieve higher accuracy and productivity?

Rely on Coridian to help you build stronger, safer data collection and identification practices with leading bar code, RFID, and wireless infrastructure technologies built with quality partners such as Zebra® Technologies. We sharpen our insights into your challenges with our 360° Review of your current processes and systems, whether in admissions, laboratory, pharmacy, records, at bedside, or beyond. Then we customize solutions that measurably enhance how you can serve your patients' needs while meeting safety and privacy requirements.

Let Coridian Take the Pulse of Your Efficiency

Coridian specializes in providing labeling, printing, and data collection solutions to the healthcare industry, aimed at enhancing efficiency with minimal hassle and maximum impact. We question: Are you using the right label or wristband materials and print methods? Is wireless mobility a better option in selected units? When and how can you use bar codes to improve efficiency? We focus on analyzing your patient safety and privacy initiatives already in place and we listen to your issues. Then we recommend solutions we believe will most effectively integrate with your needs and current systems. That's our unique 360° Review process, and our healthcare customers will attest to its successful results.

Gain Fast ROI

Because we get to know your existing framework of systems and needs, Coridian can ensure that you get the fastest payback for your investment. Our 360° Review process results in efficiency improvements, large and small, that are based on the lean business practices we can share with you. You can expect top quality ideas that become solutions implemented on time and cost-effectively—leading to fast ROI.
